Make the Change

Once you are happy that you have selected the supplier and deal best suited to meet your needs, changing is a fairly simple process:

- Get in touch with the new supplier and agree a contract with them.
- Give your old supplier 28 days notice that you are changing to a new supplier. Do this initially by telephone and follow it up with written confirmation.
- Pay any outstanding bills owing to your existing supplier or they may prevent you from transferring.
- Take a meter reading on the day you change supplier so that your old supplier can work out your final bill, or your new supplier can use it as the starting point for your first bill.
